PCSP Fire Department Safety Reminder

As the cooler air of October waves across our community, we become aware of the shorter days and the increasing darkness in our evenings. We must be more aware of the people and animals on our roads. Driving becomes more of a challenge and we need to exercise caution and make safety our priority.

As we are moving toward the winter season, we should be reminded of a few items that should be considered. Our home heating appliances should be checked and cleaned. Our vehicles should be checked, maintained and prepared for the white stuff.

Having a properly installed and operating smoke detector and a carbon monoxide detector is a very inexpensive addition to your safety.

Hallowe'en is fast approaching and we must be very diligent in our awareness of children walking on our roads.

A nice idea for everyone is to update or acquire a home safety kit in the event of a large emergency. Having batteries for flash lights, and the possibility of a supplemental heating source are two important items one should consider.

Your Protection is Our Priority,

The PCSP Volunteer Fire Department

Thank You...
